

China's Neighbors in Northeast Asia

Dependent, independent, and opposing: comprehensive relationship analysis

PURPOSE: The purpose of this research project is to investigate the relationship between China and neighboring countries in Northeast Asia in a three-dimensional approach. Therefore, the ultimate goal is to analyze the various causes of changes in relations between China and neighboring countries as well as in relationship among the neighbor countries using linkage analysis.

RESEARCH METHOD: History, Social Culture, Political Science and Diplomacy

※ Chinese minorities, such as the Inner Mongolia Autonomous Region and the Chinese-Korean Autonomous County, have a great influence on the relationship between China and neighboring countries.

Hostile relationship

Friendly relationship

